

What is the smallest number of 1 pence pieces we could use to cover a £2 coin?

These are all the coins currently in use in the UK

Hints and Suggestions

If you have some coins you could try this out and send in a picture with your solution.

If you do not have coins you could print this page and cut out the coins below.

OR you could draw some using a compass on a piece of paper and cut them out.

You could extend this idea to other notes and coins. How many 5pence pieces do you need? What if we wanted to cover a £5 note?
