Careers Policy

NEWMAN
CATHOLIC SCHOOL

Executive summary

Through tailored careers education and guidance our pupils will be encouraged to make the most of their talents, personal skills and attributes to make a positive contribution to the employment market. Impartial advice is vital for student success, as is a whole school approach to careers education. Our provision will be mapped out in our careers programme available in hard copy from the school and accessible from the careers section of the website.

The school's Careers Leader is Shaun Forrester, Assistant Headteacher.

Rationale

Newman Catholic School aims to raise aspirations, challenge stereotypes and encourage our young people to consider a wide range of careers so they make appropriate and informed choices to ensure a successful future. The world of work and employment is changing rapidly. Young people face a bewildering range of career opportunities and an equally confusing amount of careers information. Given this environment, it is vital that our students have access to accurate, impartial and objective advice and guidance to inform choices pertaining to their future.

The school must be able to help all individual pupils, irrespective of ability, to make informed decisions at all stages of their experience and development. Newman Catholic School takes the view that IAG (Information Advice and Guidance) must:

- Empower young people to plan and manage their future pathways
- Respond to the needs of the learner
- Provide appropriate, impartial and practical information and advice
- Raise aspirations
- Actively promote equality of opportunity and challenge stereotypes
- Help young people progress
- Provide effective LMI (Labour Market Information) to aid decisions for students and parents

Aims

We recognise that the process of making career decisions is a lengthy one and that most of our young people will ultimately make their final choices after completing further education courses, but it is important for us to advise, guide and support this process throughout students' time at Newman Catholic School.

Effective IAG will provide opportunities for pupils to:

- investigate and implement career/post school prospects.
- experience the working world and personalised opportunities
- have the skills, knowledge and attitude to make well-informed, realistic decisions. Students should be able to plan their future choices and understand how to access IAG to improve their life chances.
- understand how educational achievements are linked to maximising their potential future choices.
- make imaginative, creative and innovative use of new technologies to raise the quality of learning within the subject and the wider school curriculum.
- give pupils opportunities to understand and explore values, beliefs and their own cultural and social values through curriculum links to SMSC.

Resources

The school's careers programme and Provider Access Policy is available in hard copy from our careers officers Mary Brookes marybrookes@newman.cumbria.sch.uk. Alternatively, both our careers programme and Provider Access policy are available on the school website.

The School provides a careers library and noticeboard to inform students of opportunities. Online support is also encouraged through the use of the National Careers Service and other similar websites. Students in all Year groups are provided with access to the Fast Tomato careers site for a robust, evaluative careers experience. All online resources are available through the school website. The school will make use of organisations such as INSPIRA, Hello Future and the Sutton Trust in order to ensure maximum benefit for students and access to a greater range of impartial careers advice. The school has an updated Provider Access Policy so that our students can benefit from careers talks from a host of apprenticeship, FE and employment based providers. Careers staff have an "open door" policy and pupils are encouraged to call in for advice.

Assessment

The school will use destination data at Key Stages 4 & 5 to assess the overall impact of our programme on pupils. We will triangulate destination data over time to see how our work on Labour Market Information impacts on destinations.

We will use pupil, parent, teacher and employer voice surveys and interviews to ascertain confidence in our programme.

Parental Involvement

Parents are encouraged to accompany their child to careers interviews, options evenings and are able to contact careers staff at any time for advice. The school website has a section for parents, questionnaires are conducted throughout the year, a careers stand is made available on every parents' evening and we invite employers to our parents' evenings. A quarterly letter is sent to parents updating them on recent Labour Market Information.

Equal opportunities

Newman Catholic School promotes equal opportunities and challenges stereotypes to raise aspirations. We monitor careers resources regularly to ensure that they encourage both boys and girls and pupils from minority ethnic groups to enter different but inspiring careers.

All students with identified SEND are given access to a careers adviser every year from Year 8, where they are accompanied by a member of the SEND team and their parents. The school will endeavour to create a highly bespoke and tailored careers programme for those students with identified SEND.

The implementation of this policy is monitored by the Senior Leadership Team and the Governing Body and is reviewed annually.

Relationship to other policies

This IAG policy embraces policies and procedures for teaching and learning, school visits, curriculum, behaviour, special educational needs, equality, assessment and recording and reporting.

The governing body will ensure that:

- it considers advice from the head teacher when approving this curriculum policy
- the overall impact of the policy is monitored and evaluated against statutory guidance
- the breadth, balance and financing of the curriculum is regularly monitored to ensure the careers programme is adequately resourced

Arrangements for Monitoring and Evaluation

Evaluation has a crucial role to play in ensuring that the pupils' needs are being met and in determining the extent to which the IAG programme is meeting its aims and outcomes, which are defined and informed by the Gatsby Benchmarks.

Evaluation of the IAG programme is an on-going and cyclical process and all aspects are regularly reviewed and monitored to inform future policy planning.

Evaluation also includes the views of work experience employers, training providers, governors, pupils and parents. Their views are elicited via: discussions, surveys, cluster council meetings and questionnaires.

The success of this policy and the school's curriculum provision for its pupils will be evident in the school self-evaluation process and reporting activities such as:

- Bi-Annual review/evaluation

Subject audits and policies

- Visits from the School Improvement Partner and Ofsted inspection arrangements.
- Reports from the Enterprise Council and our Enterprise Adviser

The governing body will receive an annual report from the assistant head teacher with information on:

- the careers curriculum at Newman Catholic School measured against the Compass Self Evaluation Tool for Gatsby Benchmarks
- where each cohort stands in terms of its entitlement to careers provision
- the number of, type, attendance numbers and overall evaluation of impact of specific careers events
- changes to statutory requirements
